

the Agriculture Appropriations Bill for fiscal year 2010, which provides funding for the Department of Agriculture, the Food and Drug Administration, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission and the Farm Credit Administration. As in recent years, the bill focuses on several key areas, such as protecting public health; bolstering food nutrition programs; investing in rural communities; supporting agriculture research; strengthening animal health and marketing programs; and conserving our natural resources. This bill proposes new investments in these priorities and the agencies that can help us meet them, while making specific and sensible budget cuts where feasible.

The FY2010 Agriculture Appropriations Bill provides funding for the Department of Agriculture, the Food and Drug Administration, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission and the Farm Credit Administration. As in recent years, the bill focuses on several key areas, such as protecting public health; bolstering food nutrition programs; investing in rural communities; supporting agriculture research; strengthening animal health and marketing programs; and conserving our natural resources. This bill proposes new investments in these priorities and the agencies that can help us meet them, while making specific and sensible budget cuts where feasible.

---

{loadposition left}